

Women's Search for Meaning Through the Crisis of Divorce

By Solange Meier-Pieri

2000

Abstract

Heuristic research methodology was used to answer the research question, "How does a woman experience and describe her search for meaning through her divorce crisis?" All participants reported an increased interest in their creative lives. The co-researchers whose crisis was most traumatic experienced a significant increase in spiritual practices, and deepening of their spiritual lives.